

Overview | MSArchitect® License Categories

MSArchitect® is an innovative software solution for integrated design of complex distributed systems and processes across different design levels. It offers a unique blend of performance and customizability, to manage extremely complex models within diverse usage environments.

MSArchitect® includes the fastest available simulation kernel for Discrete Event Simulation (DES) and Parallel DES (PDES), which has been proofed by by several scientific publications.

As a framework of independent components it is easy to embed MSArchitect® into your IT landscape.
